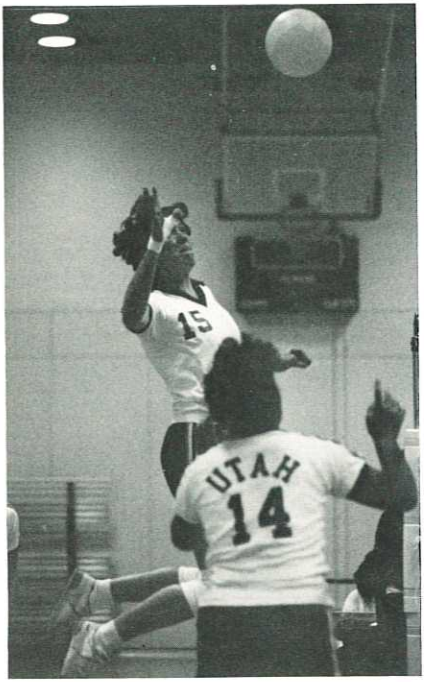
THE OUTLOOK



Senior Kim Anderson will be a big force in the middle.

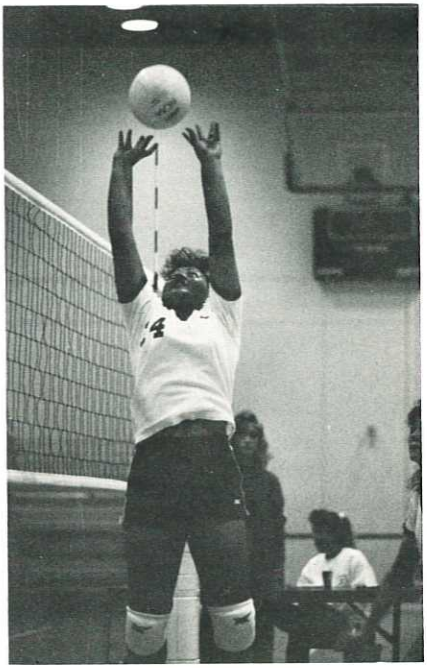
If third-year Ute coach Ann Bricker sounds a bit defensive, it's with good reason; that tone will lead to a better Utah volleyball team this fall.

"We plan to gear our practices around defense this year," says Bricker, "because I think we can raise our level of competitiveness most effectively by concentrating on defense."

The ploy to improve upon Utah's 10-29 record of a year ago should work for two reasons: size and quickness. The 1988 Utes had but two six-footers, while this fall's club features four. Last year's Utes relied on defensive specialists to sub in the back row. Thanks to improved quickness and agility, this year's team has just one strictly front court player.

"Our game will improve from last year simply because we have more size," says Bricker. "That's been our biggest problem the last two years. Also, for the first time since I've been here, we have quickness in both the front and back court."

The biggest improvement will come in the middle, where lack of size and depth hindered Utah's past progress. Senior Kim Anderson, who became a starting middle blocker midway through last season, will anchor a solid middle attack. Freshmen Debbie Gibby and Carla Cornaby, both true middle blockers, will vie for the other starting position. Although newcomers to the collegiate game, it's conceivable both will be on the floor at the same time, with one moving to outside hitter.



Senior Lofi Tupuola is the team's leading setter.

"We'll be stronger in the middle because of speed, height and Kim's experience," says Bricker. "You'll see our biggest improvement there because for the first time we have two legitimate middle blockers; not one who didn't like to play the position but was forced to."

Unfortunately, there will be at least one adjustment forced upon the 1989 Utes. Due to complications following summer surgery, projected setter Lofi Tupuola may miss the entire season. Without Tupuola, Utah's setting game loses size and experience. Senior Cindy Tingey, a first-year Ute who played two years at Southern Idaho, will lend maturity and intelligence, but she's only 5'5". Tingey's small stature will likely force the Utes to abandon their 5-1 attack and move to a 6-2. Freshman setter Denise Rathbun is four inches taller than Tingey and has good hands, but she lacks experience. In the event Tupuola makes a successful comeback or Rathbun takes over the reins, the offense will likely switch to a 5-1.

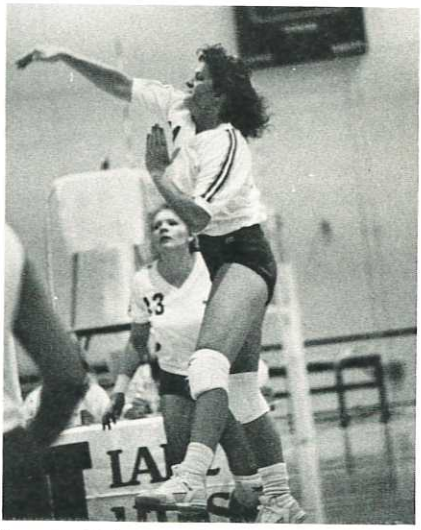
Utah's setters will benefit from a deep, talented group of outside hitters, led by senior Lani Green. Green, who smacked 403 kills last year (second on the team), will be Utah's primary outside hitter. Sophomores Danette Coleman and Heather Gourley are the other outside hitters with game time. Coleman, tremendously improved from last fall, and all-around player Gourley will both challenge for a starting spot. Returnees, aside, a pair of newcomers could emerge as real impact players. Senior Cindy Lindsay joins the ranks after starring on the Lady Ute basketball team for the past four years. A great leaper, Lindsay will lend blocking and explosive power as a starting right side hitter. Freshman Holly Wyatt, who at 6'0" is the tallest outside hitter after Lindsay (who stands 6'2"), will make immediate contributions off the bench.

"Lani (Green) will give us experience and consistency on the outside," says Bricker, "while the other players provide lots of size and power."

Size, quickness, a newfound aggressiveness which came out during spring ball, and what Bricker terms the best recruiting class since her arrival at the U. should push the Utes up the High Country Athletic Conference ladder. Prior to conference play, they'll play a schedule dotted with top caliber opponents. Utah opens the 1989 campaign at home against Boise State on August 31. The second-annual Lady Ute Classic — featuring Oregon, Bradley, Oregon State, Weber State, Montana and Utah — is set for September 1-2.

Regardless of the competition, if Bricker's Utes live up to her expectations, they'll put plenty of teams on the defensive this fall.



Danette Coleman will vie for a starting outside hitter position.

THE COACHES

HEAD COACH
Ann Bricker

Two years in search of the win column sent Ute coach Ann Bricker hot on the recruiting trail last spring. The former nationally prominent junior college coach hopes her hard work pans out in 1989, when she embarks upon her third season at Utah. Although her introduction to the heated competition of Division I volleyball has been a rocky one, Bricker's background as a 300-win coach in the juco ranks should begin to pay dividends at the NCAA level.

Bricker's 16-56 two-year mark at the U. is certainly an unusual ledger for the former Snow College coach. In her 15 years at Snow, Bricker compiled an amazing 344-120 mark.

Bricker, who also served as women's athletic director and basketball coach at Snow, led her 1986 Snow volleyball team to a 44-4 record and a No. 1 national ranking. She was the 1986 WICAC coach of the year. Her 1980 club placed fifth at the National Junior College Championships.

Also a noted basketball coach, Bricker had a basketball coaching assignment at the 1986 Olympic Festival.

An associate professor at Snow, she was named the 1986 Utah HPER College Teacher of the Year.

As an undergraduate, Bricker spent two years at Snow, departing for Utah State in 1968 with an associate of science degree. She played varsity volleyball, basketball and softball for two years at Utah State. Before returning to Snow for her coaching and administrative stint, Bricker served as assistant USU coach for one year.

Bricker, who is well on her way to a doctorate degree from Brigham Young, earned her bachelor's degree from Utah State in 1970 (where she graduated Magna Cum Laude in physical education). In 1973, she received a master's degree in professional leadership from USU. Bricker is a native of Grants, N.M.

ASSISTANT COACH
Shelly Cook

Shelly Cook, a two-year starting middle blocker at the U., will spend this season as assistant coach. Cook led the 1988 Utes in blocks, with 136, and ranked second in digs, with 311. As a senior, she played in 143 of Utah's 144 games and played in all 39 matches. Cook, who is completing requirements for a degree in family and consumer studies, is a native of Salem, Utah.

THE PLAYERS

KIM ANDERSON – Senior, 6-0, MB
Kemmerer, Wyo. (Sheridan)
Utah's top returning middle blocker, Kim Anderson started and ranked third on the 1988 squad with 70 blocks. Her 126 kills are second among the returnees. The former Sheridan Junior College MVP was a two-time all-region, all-conference selection. Anderson was Sheridan's Outstanding Freshman in 1985. She was an all-league juco basketball player. At Wyoming's Kemmerer High School, Anderson was an all-stater in volleyball and basketball and the state champion hurdler in track. The daughter of O. Clark and Pat Anderson is majoring in exercise and sport science. She was born April 7, 1967.

LANI GREEN – Senior, 5-8, OH
Ogden, Utah (Northwest Wyoming)
Lani Green started in 38 matches and her 403 kills were second most on the 1988 team. She led the team in attack percentage (.158) and digs (329). Utah's ace returning outside hitter came to the U. from Northwest Community College, where she was a first-team All-American and a finalist in the Reebok Player of the Year balloting. She was also an all-conference, all-region, all-tournament selection. As a prep at Utah's Weber High, Green led her team to a 28-0 record and two state championships. She is majoring in exercise and sport science. Born June 26, 1967, she is the daughter of Bill and Patricia Green.

CINDY LINDSAY – Senior, 6-2, OH
Orem, Utah (Orem)
After four years of playing on the Ute basketball team, Cindy Lindsay will take a turn at volleyball. The great leaper stands second in career shot blocking at Utah (90). She started all 30 games as a senior and averaged 13.7 points and 7.4 rebounds. A first-team all-conference selection, Lindsay was also named to the all-tournament team at the HCAC Championship. She played in every game over the course of her four-year career. As a prep at Orem High, Lindsay was all-state in basketball and volleyball. The exercise and sport science major is the daughter of Dale and Barbara Lindsay. She was born Oct. 7, 1967.

CINDY TINGEY – Senior, 5-5, S
Salt Lake City (Southern Idaho)
Cindy Tingey, a former two-year starting setter at the College of Southern Idaho, has one year of eligibility remaining. At Utah, Tingey has the inside nod to start at setter. The honorable mention junior college All-American was her team's MVP and the 1986 player of the year. At Vale Union High (Oregon), Tingey was all-league and team MVP in volleyball and basketball and a state qualifier in track. Born Dec. 20, 1966, she is the daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Marshall. She is majoring in pre-education.

LOFI TUPUOLA – Senior, 5-8, S
Honolulu (Eastern Arizona)
Lofi Tupuola, projected to run the Ute offense, has questionable playing status after complications from preseason surgery. Utah's top setter, Tupuola was eligible to play in just 18 of Utah's matches last season, but she made an immediate impact. Her 633 assists ranked second on the team and she recorded 61 kills, 14 service aces and 187 digs. The former juco All-American at Eastern Arizona, was conference player of the year twice and her team's 1988 female athlete of the year. She is majoring in sociology. Born Jan. 25, 1968, she is the daughter of Eseki and Taumaia Tupuola.

THE PLAYERS

RONELL FIELDING – Sophomore, 5-11, MB
Orem, Utah (Snow)
After spending last year as a redshirt, former Snow College MVP Ronell Fielding will begin her Ute career as a sophomore. The middle blocker, who also competed in basketball at Snow, was a 1987 Scholar Athlete. At Mountain View High in Orem, Utah, Fielding starred in volleyball, basketball and track. She was named 'Outstanding Track Senior' in 1987 and won the conference shot put title in 1986. Born Sept. 11, 1969, she is the daughter of Ronald and Louise Fielding.

DANETTE COLEMAN – Sophomore, 5-10, OH
Monticello, Utah (Monticello)
After playing in 22 matches as a freshman last year, Danette Coleman is ready to step into a bigger role in 1989. She exhibited a great deal of power on the outside as a substitute. Look for Coleman, who redshirted her first year on campus, to see more playing time as a sophomore. The former two-year all-state prep volleyball player paced her Monticello High team to the 1986 Utah 1A state runner-up position and was named region MVP. Born on Dec. 30, 1968, she is the daughter of Wallace and Joyce Coleman. She is majoring in exercise and sport science.

HEATHER GOURLEY – Sophomore, 5-10, OH
Salt Lake City (Olympus)
Heather Gourley accumulated valuable court experience as a freshman last year — playing in 20 matches. In line for a backup role at outside hitter again in 1989, Gourley is also a dependable server. Prior to signing with the U., she was Olympus High's 1988 Outstanding Athlete and was its Outstanding Senior in volleyball and basketball. Gourley was also the state discus champion 1988. Her softball team won the state title in 1986. Gourley received a U.S. Army Reserve Scholar/Athlete award in 1988. The daughter of Michael and Mary Gourley was born Feb. 24, 1970.

LONNY RICHMOND – Sophomore, 5-10, OH
Salt Lake City (West)
Lonny Richmond begins her Ute career as a sophomore in eligibility. One of Utah's brightest hopes on the outside, Richmond will help replace two starting outside hitters lost to graduation. As a prep, Richmond led her West High team to the Region VI title. She was West's volleyball MVP twice and was all-state in 1986 and '87. An all-tournament selection in 1986 and '87, Richmond was also named West's All-Around athlete twice. The daughter of Dennis and Linda Richmond was born June 20, 1969.

LESLIE SIMS – Sophomore, 5-6, S
Paonia, Colo. (Paonia)
As a freshman, Leslie Sims played in 34 matches. A backup setter, Sims logged the most time as a defensive specialist. She tallied 24 assists and 73 digs and emerged as a service threat. Sims, who was named Paonia High's (Colorado) Most Valuable Senior Athlete, was a two-year all-conference selection. She was also cited as Outstanding Female Track Athlete and qualified for the state meet in three events. The National Honor Society member won her school's English award as a sophomore. A recreation and leisure major, she is the daughter of Ronald and Earlana Sims. She was born Feb. 5, 1969.

THE PLAYERS

CARLA CORNABY – Freshman, 6-0, MB
Spanish Fork, Utah (Spanish Fork)
Carla Cornaby led her Spanish Fork team to the Utah 3A state championship as a senior and picked up all-state honors for herself. Spanish Fork recorded a perfect 25-0 record in 1989 and was the region champion. Cornaby lettered three years and was all-region in 1987. She captained her team two years and won a U.S. Army Reserve National Athletic/Academic Award. Cornaby was a National Honor Society vice president and was first runner up for the Hugh O'Brien Outstanding Sophomore Award. She plans to major in pre-psychology. The daughter of Jay and Randy Cornaby was born June 3, 1971.

DEBBIE GIBBY – Freshman, 5-10, MB
Brigham City, Utah (Box Elder)
Freshman Debbie Gibby is listed as a middle blocker, but could also move to the outside. A three-sport prep athlete, Gibby was all-state and all-region in volleyball and all-area in basketball. She was named Box Elder High's Outstanding Athlete and All-Around Athlete as a senior, and received the Sportsman Award as a junior. She played on the gold medalist volleyball team at the 1988 Utah Summer Games and was on Box Elder's region championship team the same year. She also lettered four years in track. The daughter of Douglas and Elaine Gibby was born Feb. 7, 1971.

DENISE RATHBUN – Freshman, 5-9, S
Salt Lake City (Skyline)
Denise Rathbun, starting setter, captain and MVP as a high school senior, helped Skyline to the 1987 Utah state championship. In 1989, Skyline finished third in the region. Also a successful club player, Rathbun was named all-tournament at the 1989 USVBA Regional — where her Utah Juniors' team finished first. It also captured four club tournaments. A DECA participant, Rathbun placed second in state DECA competition and was a national finalist. She plans to major in pre-business at the U. The daughter of Dennis and Joyce Rathbun was born Aug. 4, 1971.

HOLLY WYATT – Freshman, 6-0, OH
Salt Lake City (Skyline)
Freshman outside hitter Holly Wyatt is expected to contribute in her first year at Utah. An all-state volleyball and basketball player, Wyatt took Skyline High to the 1988 Utah state championship. Skyline's 'Outstanding Athlete' three years running, was also its basketball MVP and Most Inspirational Athlete. Wyatt played softball as well, competing in two national tournaments. She served as sophomore class president and was a Scholastic All-American. Wyatt plans to major in pre-psychology. The daughter of Roland and Helen Wyatt was born Oct. 20, 1971.
